

UNITED STATES SENATOR.—On Friday last the Legislature proceeded, on joint ballot, to elect a Senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of HENRY CLAY. John J. Crittenden was elected without opposition. There being no opposition candidate, and the question being taken on agreeing to the nomination of Mr. Crittenden, the yeas and nays were called for; and it appeared that in the House of Representatives 91 voted for Mr. C. and in the Senate 29. In this election there was a degree of harmony and unanimity highly flattering to the distinguished gentleman who has been chosen by the State of Kentucky as the immediate successor of HENRY CLAY. The pride of the State seemed to have been awakened, and some of the leading members of the Democratic party sustained the nomination with a real worth of patriots, and unapproachable by mere partisans. We allude particularly to the course of Col. Johnson of Scott, and Mr. Neff of Henry. The latter gentleman expressed the wish that the call for the yeas and nays might be withdrawn, in order that it might go forth to the world that Mr. Crittenden was the unanimous choice of his native State. [Ky. Commonwealth.]

FROM BERMUDA.—The brig Orleans arrived yesterday, bringing Bermudian papers to March 1st. The Royal Mail Steamer Thermo arrived at Bermuda Feb. 23, and proceeded for England with only 16 passengers. The ship Ann Mary Ann of Portsmouth, N. H. from Corte, France, for this port, had her sails split and sprung a leak, on the 16th Feb., latitude 40°—when she hove up for Bermuda and was towed into St. George's by a British steamer. She had a cargo of wine, salt, nuts, &c. much of which will be lost. The hull and materials of the ship Lewis Class were to be sold at Bermuda on the 1st inst.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.—A fresh southerly wind yesterday brought up to the city a number of arrivals from foreign ports. Among them, the barque Ohio from Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, by which vessel, we regret to hear of the loss of the fine ship Osage, Captain Ashton, of this port, near the entrance of the River La Plata, on a shifting sand shoal, called the "English Bank." Officers and crew all saved, who arrived in the ship-shoots safe at Montevideo. Vessel and cargo nearly a total loss, but fully insured, as we understand, in New-York—little or no insurance in this city.

NEW GRENADA, Jan. 5.—The rebel troops still occupy the suburbs of Jamaica, which, however, was much destroyed by the fire in that city. Sixty men are said to have been killed at the instance of the English and French Consuls from the men of war in the harbor, to assist in maneuvering the guns of the town, and by their skill promptly disabled two of their enemy's guns. An official communication from Gen. Gomez dated in Corozal mentioned speedy assistance. Provisions abundant and cheap.

From LISBON.—We learn from Capt. Rogers, of the ship Chicora, which arrived last evening from Lisbon, that when he left there it was currently reported that a revolution had broken out at Oporto about the 25th of January, at the head of which were the Queen's Ministers. The revolutionists desiring the charter of 1825. The Chicora sailed from Liverpool on the 4th January, having put into Lisbon in consequence of mutiny among the crew. She left Lisbon on the 5th of February, bringing home nine of the mutineers in iron-clad. [Jour. Com.]
